

WIDOW READY TO SEE HER ACCUSER

Sensational Denouement Expected in Probe of Hall-Mills Murders

CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

Eyewitness, Mrs. Gibson Had Declared That Mrs. Hall Wouldn't Meet Her

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 30.—Mrs. Hall will meet Mrs. Gibson in the office of the prosecutor at any time the prosecuting attorney designates. Timothy N. Pfeffer, attorney for Mrs. Edward W. Hall, widow of the slain actor, declared today.

The attorney's statement was an answer to Mrs. Jane Gibson, the eyewitness of the murder of the actor, who declared that she would not meet Mrs. Hall, who she said had been at the scene of the crime.

SO ALL MAY SEE CIVIC FILM

"Growing Pains" Will Be Shown at City Club Meeting Saturday.

There will be a meeting of all civic clubs at noon Saturday with the City club, at which time the civic film, "Growing Pains," will be shown. The picture is brought here by the city plan commission.

"Growing Pains" is being shown all of this week, until Friday, at the Majestic theater. An open meeting to which all members of civic organizations and all interested in the work of the city plan commission will be welcomed will be also held some time this week, the date to be announced later.

Worked out with a small cast of characters, an episode showing the importance of zoning to the average householder is one of the parts of the film. This is followed by actual scenes showing the damaging effect of unrestricted building, and a series of episodes explaining some of the advantages of zoning. The technicalities of zoning are explained in animated diagrams and the film ends with an animated map of the United States showing zoning material and what cities in each state have zoning ordinances.

"Beg Your Pardon."

(From the Pas Herald.) The report of the wedding of Tom Bear and Lizzie Flint at Piquitona, published in the "Herald" a few weeks ago, is all wrong, writes Magistrate May, who says it was a flight instead of a wedding. We are glad it is not as bad as first reported.

DYE BLOUSE OR BABY'S COAT IN "DIAMOND DYES"

"Diamond Dyes" add years of wear to worn, faded skirts, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, hangings, draperies, everything. Every package contains directions so simple any woman can put new, rich, fadeless colors into her worn garments or draperies even if she has never dyed before. Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade, or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods—Advertisement.

California-Washington Clash to Decide Winner

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—It was evident today as the smoke of Saturday's gridiron contest cleared away that the Pacific coast championship will probably be decided at Seattle November 11. On that date Andy Smith will lead the University of California against Enoch H. Shaw's up and coming Washington university eleven. Both teams came through their most severe tests so far this season with wins Saturday. Neither victory was especially impressive, but a win is a win.

CITY TEACHERS TO CONVENTION

Tulsa Will Be Well Represented at Muskogee Friday

Virtually all of the teachers of the city schools are expected to go to Muskogee for the Northeastern Oklahoma Educational association conference that will be held Thursday and Friday of this week. A special train leaves over the M. & T. at 7 o'clock Friday morning, on which many teachers will go, and special cars will be attached to the 4 o'clock Midland Valley train Thursday afternoon.

Clarence Orman, who has charge of transportation, said last night that approximately 175 teachers had signed thus far to go on the Friday morning special, and about 25 Thursday evening. There are a large number who are expected to drive leaving Thursday in time for the opening session Thursday night.

The fact that the industrial art section is meeting in Stillwater will take 25 or more, manual training teachers from Tulsa to Stillwater.

These teachers are also expected to drive, Orman said.

Many Tulsa teachers have a part in the departmental pressure committee of them serving as departmental committee officers.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK NEXT MONTH

Exhibition Will Be Held on Second Floor of Public Library

"The time has come, the walrus said, To talk of other things."

Of ships and shoes and sealing wax And cabbage and kings."

There was a soldier in the World war who carried a worn little book with him wherever he went. The soldier could probably quote verses more from it than what the walrus said about aprons, conversational topics because he had been reading "Alice in Wonderland" ever since he was a little boy and he still loved it. That soldier, according to educational authorities, had been properly reared so far as his reading was concerned.

For "Alice in Wonderland" is one of the 25 books that every child should not only have read, but have in the library in his home, according to Miss Myra S. Grosh, children's librarian at the Tulsa library. Miss Grosh believes that the things a child reads influences him all of his life, and for that reason she is working now on plans for Children's Book week, November 12 to 18.

The purpose of this week is to encourage a love for books among children and to arouse interest in and discussion of their reading. While the Tulsa library makes a point of filling its juvenile shelves with books that children ought to like and read, the librarians are eager to encourage book ownership and towards this end they are holding this week an exhibition of children's books.

The exhibition is on the second floor and has in it all of the 25 books that the National Education association and the American Library association say are the best purchases for children's libraries.

There is everything there from Mother Goose to Kipling, and even groupings will be interested in seeing how much they read in their childhood days that they should have read.

The Tulsa library is co-operating with the club women of the city and the schools in making plans for Children's Book week.

Harold Lloyd in "Grandma's Boy at the Palace Tomorrow"

This is positively the greatest laugh feast of the year. If you were one of the unfortunates to miss it last month at the Majestic, see it now, this is your last chance.

SOONER DIES IN WRECK

Load of Lumber Crushes Tramps to Death Near Casper.

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 29.—Three men believed to have been stealing a ride on a freight train, were killed in the railroad yards at Powder river, 45 miles west of here, today when a load of lumber in the car in which they were concealed tumbled over and crushed them to death. Two others were badly injured.

The dead are C. E. Linden, Oklahoma City; Charley Duncan, Spokane, Wash. and Frank Moran.

PREPARE FOR BIG PARTY

Civitan Club Anticipates Big Doings on Streets Tonight.

Good citizenship as embodied in the Civitan creed was the subject of the talk that C. E. Buchner, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., made before the members of the Civitan club at their weekly luncheon Monday.

Accomplishment of the club in preparing for its big Halloween party tonight was reported and general discussion of plans followed. A 15-piece orchestra will play for dancing and awarding of prizes for the best costumes will precede the evening's festivities. Mayor H. F. Newblock, Mrs. Merle C. Prunty, Mrs. S. R. Iye, Judge Albert Hunt and John Rogers are judges who will select the prize winning masques. The members of Asher's Business Women's council disguised as sheeted ghosts, will tag everyone who is not costumed, and in masked, asking a quarter and accepting more if it is given. The money is to be used in furthering the big winter movement, sponsored by the club.

When the average congressman wants to give a concrete example he doesn't have to hunt for it.

FORD WEALTH IS EXAGGERATED

Edsel Declares That Wall Street Gossip Is Not Very Reliable

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—Refusing to affirm or deny the report that his father, Henry Ford, would be a candidate for the presidency at the next election, Edsel Ford, son of the great manufacturer, now in Los Angeles, did take occasion today to deny a Wall Street rumor that his father is worth $2,000,000,000 cash. He also denied that a new Ford plant will be built within the near future in Los Angeles.

Regarding his father's candidacy, Ford stated that any comment on that subject would come from his father, and in reference to the proposed new Los Angeles Ford factory to serve the Pacific coast, he said the time for it had not arrived.

The statement that his father was worth $2,000,000,000 cash was a mistake, he said.
